Let me introduce myself.

My design journey began in high school, where I competed in inter-school photography, videography, and Adobe Creative Suite competitions.

What started as a passion soon turned into a career path, leading me to pursue a bachelor's degree in graphic design, transforming my creative interests into a formally trained skill set. Wanting to push my work further and take it to that next level, I ventured to the United Kingdom to pursue my master's in Graphic Design.

Design has been at the heart of my journey, but beyond the creative realm, you'll find me on my motorcycle, riding, exploring, and capturing the world through my camera!
